National Theme: America's Heroes
Department Theme: Solidarity in Action for Veterans Everyday

This year the National Historian & Media Relations is focusing on preserving our memories in a way that will remain for generations. She said it best this program "keeps the Auxiliary history alive." Your Auxiliary Historian, along with members, is the storyteller of your Auxiliary. In the past, they compiled photographs, memorabilia, and newspaper articles in scrapbooks and photo albums. As years go by those memories start to fade and deteriorate due to the old photo processing, photo album glue, temperature, and moisture. If not saved those memories will be lost forever. Now with modern technology, we can digitally store not only photos and news articles but, we are able to recreate our photo albums and scrapbooks pages. Last year we learned about reels. This year we will learn about technological advancements that can help us preserve our history and create last memories.

The second part of this program is Media Relations and is equally important as Historian. As Media Relations, you are also assisting in promoting events and projects that your Auxiliary participants are in to show what you do and support the military and your community. The Auxiliary has 9 other programs the Historian/Media Relation chairmen along with member can assist in promoting and share information on social media platforms such as Facebook, X, Instagram, Snapchat, YouTube channel, or TikTok. Add hashtags and website links to social media posts to boost visibility for the event, project, cause, or VFW Auxiliary program you are promoting. Promote what your Auxiliary and this organization does for our Veterans, service members, their families and our community.
